

Planning for Your Child Special Needs Letter of Intent Workbook

Inform future caregivers of your intentions for the care of your child

Strategies & Solutions

Ensuring Your Child's Future

No one else knows your child as well as you do, and no one ever could. You are a walking encyclopedia of your child's history, experiences, habits, and wishes. If your child has special needs, the family's history adds a helpful chapter to your child's book, one detailing his unique medical, behavioral and educational requirements.

What would happen if you suddenly became unable to provide your child with the necessary supports he needs? Without you, your child would become dependent on other caregivers who simply do not possess all of your personal knowledge and insight. However, there are steps you can take now to minimize the natural disruption and disorientation that will occur upon your death or if you become unable to care for your child during your lifetime.

First and foremost, you should appoint a legal guardian for any child who is not expected to be able manage personal financial or medical decisions without assistance. Second, you could prepare a letter of intent to help loved ones and your child manage a difficult transition when you no longer are the primary caregiver. A letter of intent is an important planning tool for parents of children with special needs (including adult children), and also may be useful when planning for minor children who are not expected to face special challenges.

Importance of Letter of Intent

Although a letter of intent is one of the most important estate planning documents a parent can prepare, it is not a formal legal document that must be created by an attorney. The goal of a letter of intent is to memorialize your knowledge of your child's needs so that you may guide future caregivers, guardians and trustees in providing the best possible care to your child. Simply put, a thoughtful letter of intent ensures that those who come after you need not waste precious time figuring out the best way to manage and care for your child.

Use this workbook as a guidepost to help you organize the important information you will need to draft a letter of intent. Once you complete the workbook, seek legal counsel from an experienced special needs planning attorney to assist you with drafting the letter. The letter should be periodically updated. It should also be shared with appropriate people, such as your child's designated guardian.

The Arc Community Trust of Pennsylvania (ACT) has an extensive history in administering First Party, Third Party and Pooled Special Needs Trusts. Since 2001 when ACT was established, our trust administrators have endeavored to enhance the lives of beneficiaries while protecting their governmental benefits.

In effort to enhance the life and provide greater peace of mind to the beneficiary, their families and others responsible for their welfare, The Arc Community Trust of Pennsylvania's mission is; to serve as trustee for a variety of special needs trusts with integrity and in a manner that exceeds best-practice fiduciary standards, protecting public benefits and financial assets for the beneficiary.

The ACT staff, leadership and board of directors look forward to working with you!

Self-Funded Special Needs Trust

Self-Settled Special Needs Trusts come in two varieties, non-Pooled and Pooled. A non-Pooled Special Needs Trust (also known as a Payback Trust) is established for one Trust beneficiary, and the Trustee can be anyone who is qualified to act as Trustee. This is the kind of Trust most people refer to when they use the term Special Needs Trust. A Payback Trust is individually drafted by legal counsel and will be received and reviewed by the government and at the demise of the beneficiary all remaining funds are paid back to the government for services received.

Requirements for a Payback Trust

- It is for the benefit of an individual with disabilities under 65 years of age.
- The beneficiary is disabled as defined in 42 USC 1382 c(a)(3).
- The trust is established by a parent, grandparent, legal guardian or court.
- At the beneficiary's death, any residual funds are first used to pay back the State or Commonwealth for any Medical Assistance benefits received by the Beneficiary.

Third Party Funded Special Needs Trust

The Third Party Funded Trust is a trust which is created and funded by someone other than the individual with a disability, such as a parent, grandparent, or another loved one. The Third Party Funded Trust is a very effective option that requires advanced planning. This type of trust gives the trustee almost total discretion to spend or not spend on the beneficiary's needs, except that the trustee is always directed not to distribute assets in any way that reduces the beneficiary's government benefits.

Basic differences between this trust and a self-funded trust:

- The Third Party Funded Trust permit the Settlor, the individual establishing the trust, to direct all residual funds at the time of the beneficiary's death without any pay back to the government.
- The Third Party Funded Trust permits, perhaps even encourages, more than one concurrent beneficiary. The Third Party Funded Trust can use a family member or corporate fiduciary to serve as the trustee. Each trust is established and maintained individually and must be approved individually by the government.

Pooled Trust

Pooled trusts are a more affordable option to establish and maintain, prolonging the individuals assets. A pooled trust is a trust established and administered by a non-profit organization. A separate account is established for each beneficiary of the trust, but for the purposes of investment and management of funds, the trust pools these accounts. For Pooled Trusts (also known as (d)(4)(C) Trusts), each subaccount is established by the person with a disability, a parent, grandparent, guardian, or a court, and the Trust is funded with the assets of the person with a disability. The Pooled Trust provides that, upon the death of the disabled beneficiary, if there are funds remaining in the beneficiary's sub-account, they are retained by the charity in effort to support

Notes about a Pooled Trust:

- This trust can be self-created and self-funded.
- Because there is no "look-back" period on a Pooled Trust, any funds received by the individual, or to which the individual is already entitled, can be deposited into a Pooled Trust and will no longer render the individual ineligible.
- A Pooled Trust is established using a Social Security Administration pre-approved form and does not require separate court approval. These trusts are a more affordable option to establish and maintain, prolonging the assets.

Education Special Needs Trust

In addition to administering pooled and non-pooled special needs trusts, ACT administers educational special needs trusts. Educational trusts are trusts which typically arise out of the settlement of disputes between parents and school districts over whether the school district has provided adequate "free appropriate public education" for a student with disabilities, or whether the school district has properly followed an Individualized Education Plan.

ACT's administration of an educational trust is guided by two documents: the settlement agreement between the parents and the school district and a trust agreement between ACT and either the parents or the school district, depending on who is settling the trust. The settlement agreement, which comes first, is negotiated by lawyers for the parents and the school district. The trust agreement is then drafted by the lawyer for either the parents or the school district.
